Sept. 30 Worse Than Taxpaying; Houston-Bound

For newspaper publishers Sept. 30 is a worse day than the deadline date for paying income tax.

If you are a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations Sept. 30 is the end of the six months period (second and third quarters combined) and you start work at once on your publisher's statement, which is due in Chicago within 15 days. The annual ABC audit which comes in the Spring checks a publisher's affidavits to make sure he has been truthful. ABC, incidentally, is controlled by the buyers of advertising, such as merchants and manufacturers, with advertising sellers, newspapers and magazines, in the minority.

Also on Sept. 30 a newspaper's Post Office statement of ownership and circulation the past 12 months is due and must be published and filed by the second publication day after Sept. 30.

I am grateful to report we got off our publisher's statement to ABC in Chicago Saturday noon. And the Post Office statement was completed Saturday morning and is published in today's edition.

Obviously someone was pushing a ball-point pen into the wee hours last week. But it's just one of the chores you do mechanically after nearly 50 years in the newspaper business.

Joe Namath and his New York Jets were scheduled to meet the Houston Oilers in the Astrodom Sunday afternoon. You'll see the football game on television, but Saturday noon Pod Rogers and I shoved off for Houston to see Namath in person.

Actually the attraction is the Astrodom, which I have never seen. Rogers and I were on our way a year ago last month by way of Dallas when I landed in the hospital with a stomach ulcer operation.

For obvious reasons I'm dodging Dallas this time. Our scheduled route was through Lufkin, Texas, the home of our newspaper mill.

I thought about pictures—but why ruin the Astrodom and a football game by taking along a camera? When you're taking pictures you don't even know the score.

We should be home about noon Monday.

Two 'Bobs' exchange 1-liners

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bobby Fischer, comedian?

It happened in beautiful downtown Burbank Sunday night as the world's chess champion matched one-line gags with Bob Hope for the comedian's Oct. 8 NBC special.

Fischer, who won the title from Russian Boris Spassky in Iceland last month, earned $10,000 for about 10 minutes of air time and proved himself an able comic.

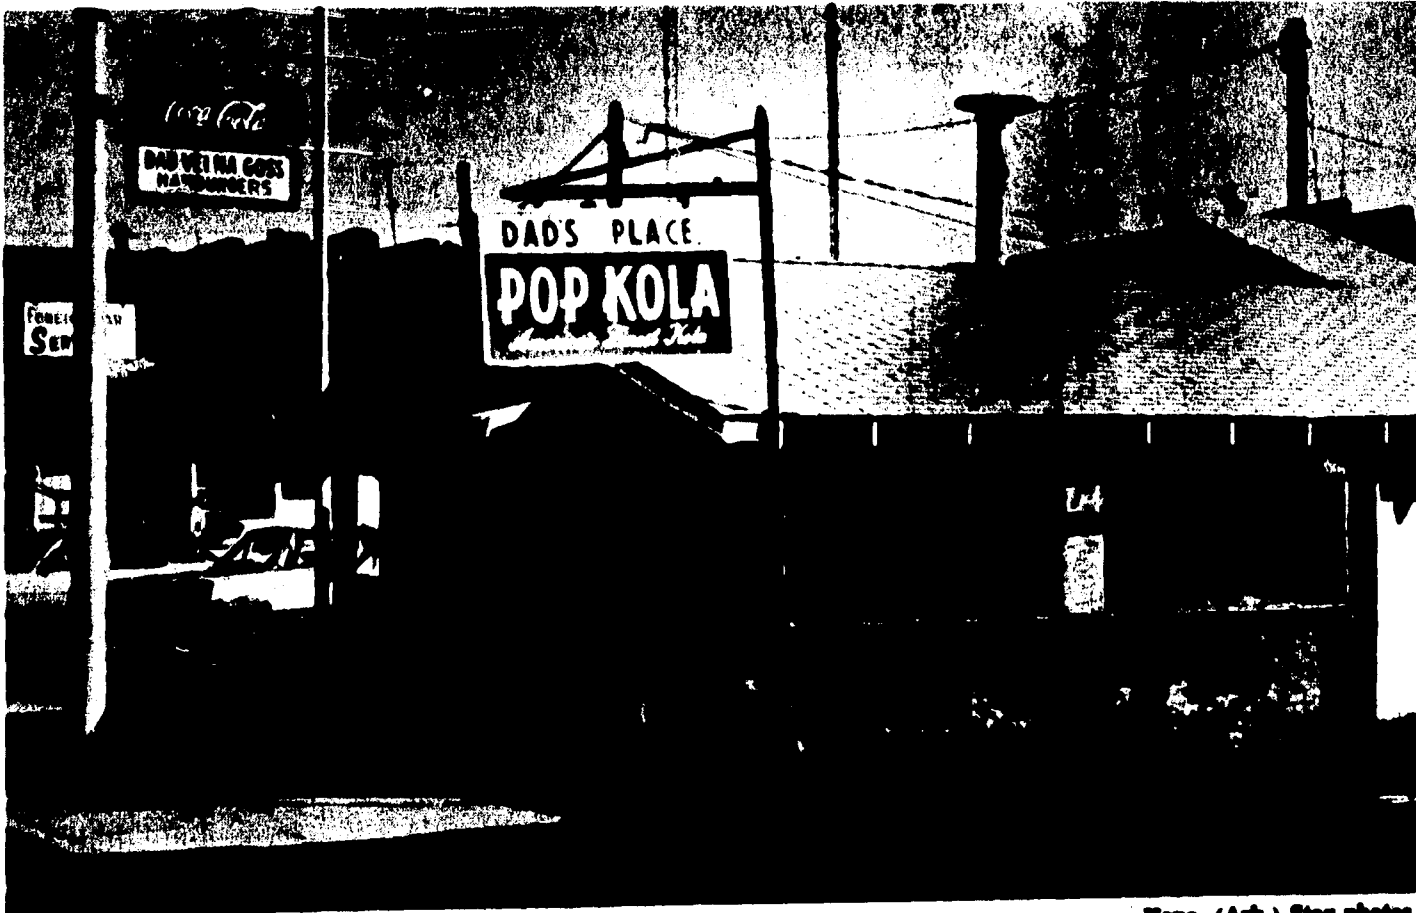

Among the gags: Hope: "Bobby, I heard that all through your match, you were given advice from Henry Kissinger. Is that true?" Fischer: "That's right."

Hope: "Did it help?"

"It will if I ever meet Jill St. John," said Fischer in reference to the actress who has been one of the presidential adviser's frequent dates.

Dad's Place: doors close for last time.

Dad's: End of the line

A Hope landmark closed its doors Saturday.

"Dad's Place," for years a gathering place of people who enjoyed low-cost, quick-service hamburgers, hot dogs and cold drinks, finished business Saturday and shut down operations... after serving more than 20,000,000 hamburgers in more than 30 years of operation. Urban Renewal forced the closing of the business, as it has other businesses in the area.

Dad's Place originally opened as a hamburger joint sometime before 1940 in an old streetcar. The hamburgers were advertised at "5 cents each, 24 for $1."

In 1942, "Dad" and Velma Goss purchased the business and operated it continuously until several years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Ingersol purchased it.

Saturday morning Ingersol was sitting at the back of the kitchen, contemplating about the changes that have taken place, and prospects for the opening of another "Dad's."

"This old place just got into the way of progress," Ingersol said. "Sure, it's a shame, but there's not much we can do. I hope to open up another place somewhere, but right now the question is 'where?'"

Ingersol said his regular customers are angry. "They want it left open," he said. "They want it just like it is, just where it is, and hamburgers cooked just the way they have always been cooked."

Ingersol said that records show he averages more than 1,500 hamburgers a day; the price has risen to 30 cents each, but "those are still the cheapest in town," he stated proudly. One Saturday when the Gosses were running the carry-out, he said, "more than 5,000 hamburgers were sold. That's a heckava lot of hamburgers."

Important vote for Danes today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today considers a move to shelve welfare reform for two years while tests are run on three plans for aiding families with dependent children.

Adoption of that amendment probably would set the stage for Senate passage of the big Social Security-welfare bill this week.

That would leave next week, expected to be the last for the 93rd Congress, for a Senate-House conference to come up with a final version of the bill.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., chairman of the Finance Committee and author of the two-year-test amendment, said he doubts the Senate is ready to vote for either of three major welfare-reform bills at this time.

Disagreement over aid to families with dependent children has been the principal cause of a 18-month delay in Senate consideration of the Social Security-welfare bill.

Long is a chief sponsor of a tough "Workfare" plan, adopted by the Finance Committee, to require many parents in welfare families to accept jobs or lose all benefits.

The delaying amendment up for consideration today, introduced by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., calls for tests of Workfare, the family-assistance plan espoused by President Nixon and adopted by the House, and a liberalized version of the assistance plan, pushed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Ribicoff has said he wants a separate vote on his proposal and has introduced an amendment embodying it.

But he, too, said he expected that in the end the Senate would turn to a test of all the plans. The Nixon plan calls for a guaranteed annual income for welfare families and aid for the first time for the working poor. The Senate Finance Committee conservatives, a majority on the panel, have never been willing to accept these provisions.

Nixon, Gromyko confer, will dine

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko conferred at the White House today and will dine together at Camp David tonight.

Tuesday they will join in formal ceremonies to put into effect the historic arms limitation agreements that were signed in Moscow by the two nations.

Nixon was extending unusual hospitality to Gromyko.

Eleanor: Into the fray

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eleanor McGovern has called the Nixon administration "the most corrupt regime that we have had in recent American history," citing the break-in at Democratic national headquarters as an example.

"I think this is a regime where we have lost freedoms and we're not aware of it," said the wife of George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate.

She said "that's the lesson of the Watergate," referring to the break-in and alleged attempt to bug Democratic offices in the Watergate Hotel in Washington. If the administration can bug the private office of another major party, she said, then it may well bug other offices or even homes.

Seven men, including two former White House aides, have been indicted in connection with the break-in.

Mrs. McGovern declared that the rights of privacy, of free speech, and "to speak out privately in our own homes" are at stake.

Mrs. McGovern's appearance Sunday was the first time the wife of a presidential candidate had ever been interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Despite the wide gap in the pre-election polls, she predicted McGovern will win the election, noting that he has "overcome almost insurmountable odds" in his political career.

Released POW says treatment 'humane'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Navy Lt. Mark L. Gartley, the first of the three recently released American pilots to hold a news conference in the United States, says his treatment in a North Vietnamese prisoners of war camp was "humane."

Gartley told newsmen Sunday that conditions in the camp had improved and were "much better now" than they were when he was first imprisoned after being shot down in 1964.

"My treatment during capture has been humane," he said. "I have not been mistreated. Prisons anywhere in the world are no bed of roses. This was no exception."

"But when you take into account the standard of living in the country in which we were confined, and examine the conditions, you'd have to say we were treated very well," Gartley said.

Gartley spoke for about 25 minutes in a conference at St. Albans Naval Hospital in New York City. Then he left for Jacksonville, Fla., where he entered another Naval hospital for further tests.

Navy officials declined to say how long Gartley would remain at the hospital.

The other two released pilots, Navy Lt. (j.g.) Norris Charles and Air Force Maj. Edward K. Elias, have also been undergoing tests since their return home in the company of anti-war activists.

Officials at the Balboa Naval Hospital in San Diego said Charles would be released today and continue seeing doctors as an outpatient.

Elias was in a hospital at Maxwell Air Force Base near Montgomery, Ala.

At his news conference, Gartley said the first thing he wanted to do was to contact the families of men who were prisoners with him to reassure them that their loved ones were not being mistreated.

LAWYER MAY ASK FOR A MISTRIAL

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Richard E. Hawk, defense lawyer in the mass murder trial of Juan Corona, says he will seek "sanctions" against the prosecution and might ask for a mistrial.

Hawk said Sunday the prosecution has not furnished the defense with certain evidence required by court orders.

A new mood in China

SHANGHAI (AP)—A new mood of openness was noticeable in China as the country celebrated the 23rd anniversary of the Communist takeover.

One example was provided by Chinese who seemed to have little hesitation about telling westerners in a public park that former Defense Minister Lin Biao was a "traitor who wanted to restore capitalism," and that members of his family died with him in the Trident plane which crashed last September in Mongolia.

The news about Lin—who once was designated the heir of Mao Tse-tung—is not particularly new. It has long been rumored abroad and was confirmed by Chinese in high places in Peking and elsewhere two months ago.

What made these statements startling is that they came not from a high official, but from a clothing store clerk, an ordinary newspaperman and a member of a local revolutionary committee.

They made them in a Shanghai park to American newsmen in the presence of about 20 attentive Chinese bystanders. The comments showed the extent to which China in recent months has become a more open society.

Not everything can be said on any subject. But compared to the tight secrecy which prevailed on political issues when this writer last visited China in April 1971, the change seemed phenomenal.

Last year Chinese in official positions spoke freely about their personal lives, which astonished resident newsmen and diplomats. But they drew the line at political topics. That was China's business and not to be shared with visiting correspondents, they indicated.

People who probed too deeply, were given short negative answers.

But the new mood of openness was mirrored in 23rd anniversary celebrations throughout the country on Sunday. Instead of massive parades of official organizations in Shanghai, there was informal entertainment in the public parks.

Youth is hurt at Coliseum

An 11-year-old Hope boy suffered a head injury about 5 p.m. Sunday at Fair Park Coliseum when a board fell off the announcer's stand in the rodeo arena, striking him on the head.

Chris Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carey of Hope, was rushed to Memorial Hospital, then transferred to a Little Rock hospital. He is listed in undetermined condition at Little Rock.

The Carey youth was struck by a board apparently dislodged accidentally by another youth.

GIANT HAMBURGER—An employee at Dad's Place, Mrs. Estelle Walker, pats out a giant hamburger in preparation for Saturday's business, while owner Terrell Ingersol looks on.

Dad's Place --

He estimated that more than 2,000 hamburgers would be sold on the final day, and to back up that "guesstimate" one of the employees, Mrs. Estelle Walker, had rolled out four huge patties of hamburger meat on a kitchen table. The regular cook, Mrs. Madie Griffin, expertly cooked several hamburgers on the huge grill. Although it was only 9 a.m., a steady stream of customers filed into Dad's, and Ingersol said several hamburgers were sold before 8 a.m., the official opening time.

How many hamburgers have been sold throughout the years? One employee ventured "billions, more than McDonald's." But 20,000,000 is a good mathematical guess.

Many of the customers seemed surprised when told that Dad's was closing.

"I'll never eat another hamburger," one of the employees told a customer. "It does kind of make you not hungry," was the reply.

One man, after ordering a hamburger and being informed it was the last day for Dad's, quickly changed his order... and ordered two hamburgers.

Important Senate vote on welfare is set today

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Danes vote today in a referendum called to give the public the final say in the country's most far-reaching decision since it joined the North Atlantic Alliance — whether to enter the European Common Market.

Norway's rejection of market membership in a plebiscite last week added suspense to the voting, but the general expectation was that a majority would elect for Denmark to join EEC, the European Economic Community, on next Jan. 1.

Nearly 2,000 workers at two plants in Juland went on strike in protest against the mailing by management of letters urging employees to vote "yes".

A dozen uniformed police were on hand to guard against possible interference by demonstrators when the ballot boxes were taken into the polling station in Copenhagen's town hall.

Norway's rejection of market membership was regarded as a setback by Danes favoring steps toward a united Europe. If the referendum passes, Denmark will be the only Scandinavian country in the market, now composed of West Germany, Italy, France, Luxembourg, Belgium and the Netherlands. Britain and Ireland expect to join in January. Finland and Sweden have not sought entry.

Despite dim polls, Democrats planning to increase strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite polls forecasting dim prospects for the Democrats in the presidential election, liberal House Democrats see a good chance for increasing their strength in the next Congress.

An unusual number of retirements and primary election defeats have left gaping vacancies in the Democratic ranks, most of them among senior and conservative members.

Although a lot will depend on who is elected to fill the vacancies, the liberals see a strong possibility that they will wind up in control of the House Democratic Caucus.

With that as their goal, they are fashioning a number of reform proposals dealing with seniority, committee secrecy and the powers of the party leadership for possible action by the caucus next January.

The showing made by George McGovern in his race against President Nixon is important, but not crucial, to their hopes, say the liberal strategists. Most of the same polls that show McGovern far behind also show the Democrats are likely to retain control of the House.

The Democrats now have a 254-to-177 edge over the Republicans with four seats vacant. Campaign officials for both parties expect the Republicans to gain, but even the most optimistic among the GOP professionals place the pickup at fewer than 30 seats, with 218 seats needed for control.

The liberals say their great opportunity lies in the changed makeup of the Democratic majority that retirements, resignations to run for other office, and primary defeats make inevitable.

MRS. JACK EDGAR COOP

Miss Albright weds Mr. Coop on Saturday

The First United Methodist Church of Sherrill was the setting for the wedding of Miss Martha Kathryn Albright and Jack Edgar Coop on Saturday afternoon, September 30. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Alvis Albright of Sherrill, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Merlin Coop of Hope.

Harvest colors were used for the church decorations that consisted of large marble columns entwined with jade greenery and fern, brass candlesticks holding gold tapers, and altar bouquets of bronze and gold mums. Dr. John Lindsey, pastor of the church, officiated with the assistance of the Rev. Everett Patton of Jonesboro. Music was provided by Mrs. Harry Fite, Jr. of Pine Bluff, organist; Arthur Arney of Pine Bluff, soloist; Robert Roberts of Little Rock, cellist; and Alan Goldman of Pine Bluff, French horn.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Victorian style gown fashioned in silk organza over peau de sole with accents of Alencon lace. The bodice had a banded neckline and sheer sleeves with overlays of reemboledered Alencon lace accents. The soft graceful skirt fell from a banded midriff outlined in petite lace flairs. A deep flounce of organza swept to the back of the skirt and formed a graceful demi-train. A Camelot caplet of matching lace and pearls held her full, cathedral length veil of French illusion. She carried an heirloom hand-dorched her mother had carried in her wedding. The bride's Victorian nosegay bouquet was an arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids.

The bride's attendants wore chiffon gowns designed along Victorian lines in autumn tones of avocado, gold and pumpkin. Their hairpieces were of a corresponding color to their dresses, and each carried a nosegay of mums, roses, carnations and fern. The matron of honor, Mrs. John Raymond Owens of Little Rock, wore gold; Mrs. Loyd R. Swope of Dallas, sister of the groom, avocado; Mrs. Ray Eugene Colclasure of Pine Bluff, pumpkin; Mrs. Jerry Edward Clem of Pine Bluff, avocado; Mrs. Phillip R. Willis of Memphis, gold. The junior bridesmaid, Miss Melissa Lyn Albright of Sherrill, niece of the bride, wore pumpkin. The flower girls, Misses Jill Frances Colclasure and Jane Barrett Colclasure, both of Memphis and both cousins of the bride, wore ivory tissue tulle.

Kenneth R. Ridgill of Texarkana, Ark., was the best man. Groomsmen were Dr. Ray Eugene Colclasure of Pine Bluff, cousin of the bride; Henry Rush Turk of Sherrill, cousin of the bride; James M. Lester of Hope; Ebb Weldon Johnson of Texarkana, Ark., cousin of the groom. Junior groomsmen were William Barrett Albright, II of Sherrill, nephew of the bride.

Candlelighters who also served as ushers were William Barrett Albright of Sherrill, brother of the bride, and Loyd Ray Swope of Dallas, brother-in-law of the groom. William E. Johnson of Texarkana, Ark., cousin of the groom, also ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Albright wore a formal length gown of blue chiffon, and Mrs. Coop, mother of the groom, wore a formal length gown of pink chiffon. Each carried a petite hand bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and fern with matching stephanotis in their hair.

Following the wedding, a garden reception was given by the bride's parents at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Turk of Sherrill. The focal point of the reception was the illusion tent of mixed harvest colored satin ribbon that silhouetted the bride's table. The floral arrangements were of harvest colored flowers that matched the wedding flowers. Standards and ribbon streamers marked the entrance to the lawn reception.

Members of the house party were Mrs. John Moody Barrett, IV, Mrs. Stephen Garrett, Mrs. Martha Mae Powers, Pine Bluff; Miss Tammy Lyn Blair, Mrs. Curtis Ronald Bradley, Mrs. Ronald Bruton, Mrs. Joe Curtis Colclasure, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, Miss Rebecca Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Motes, Mrs. Ann F. Sanders, Sherrill; Mrs. Joe Barrett Colclasure, Memphis; Mrs. Coy Gentry, Conway; Mrs. Don Leslie Moore, Wabbaseka; Mrs. Noah Peek, Jr., England; Mrs. Lewis Joe Rogers, Tucker, Rice bags were distributed by Miss Sherrill Barrett, Pine Bluff; Miss Maria Bruton, Sherrill; and Miss Lucille Peek, England.

Out-of-state guests were Dr. and Mrs. Joe Barrett Colclasure, Jill and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Willis, Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd R. Swope, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard and Teresa, Dallas; Mrs. Velma Turk, Longview, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stevens, Jr., Bryan, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cherry, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Lee Cutler, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Houghton and Garrett, San Antonio, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Albright, San Diego, Calif.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, Bahamas, the newlyweds will be at home at 1411 Shackelford Road, Little Rock. Mr. Coop is owner of Jack Coop's Pipe and Tobacco Shop in Little Rock.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

No One Bothers to Check!
Mrs. Bottel:
Several years ago you infuriated a number of us Concerned Americans by your silly diatribe in our statement that the peace symbol was not only ANTI-Christ (the broken cross signifying allegiance to Satan) but was also a Communist sign! You stupid "liberals" can't see the Writing On The Wall!

But I am giving you another chance. Enclosed is a mimeographed sheet, restating the truth about the peace symbol — that it is the "witches foot," a broken cross, turned upside down, promoted by those opposed to Christianity.

And — here is the clincher: this announcement, which has appeared in numerous publications, says, "One of the nation's most sophisticated magazines, THE NEW YORKER, said in a recent article that the so-called peace symbol was adopted by various youth organizations on direct orders from the Communist Party." It is part of their long-range propaganda campaign to attract youth into subversive Communist-directed programs... to encourage them to express contempt for adults, for authority and for the ideas of patriotic Americans.

Now, Mrs. Bottel, can you argue with an ultra-liberal magazine such as THE NEW YORKER? — DON'T CALL ME "ARCHIE" — UNLESS YOU MEAN IT AS A COMPLIMENT READERS ALL, INCLUDING "DON'T CALL ME ARCHIE".

The "battle of the peace symbol" is so old and bewildered that it rates no further comment...well, perhaps a small aside: Several sources, including the Encyclopedia Britannica, link the symbol to the semaphore sign for N and D and say it rose to prominence as a peace emblem during the 1968 nuclear disarmament demonstrations in England.

I'm printing "DCMA's" letter, however, for two reasons: 1. To set the record straight, re THE NEW YORKER; and 2. To demonstrate how far a phony claim travels simply because so many people believe what they read without checking!

But not this skeptical columnist! I sent the mimeographed sheet with the alleged NEW YORKER quote to the magazine's editor, and back came his letter which said

INTS FOR HOMEOWNERS
MERION MARRYIN'
Now, before winter sets in, when many a homeowner is reseeded his lawn, he finds that highly superior Merion Kentucky Bluegrass is available in mixtures as well as straight.
Who knows grass best? The sod grower certainly must be a candidate. He can't afford a crop failure... or a less than perfect product. And to sell the best looking "instant lawn," he must grow the best looking turf. Nearly 75 percent of all grass seed sown by sod growers and greens-keepers is Merion Bluegrass.

Merion is a cool weather grass that starts growing early in spring; it "greens-up" faster and establishes itself before the weather warms up. Its deep underground root structure keeps the top side lush and green through the heat and draught of summer, with less watering than other grasses. And it stays greener longer in fall.

An easy grass to care for, Merion grows thick and low, requiring less cutting, and responds well to close cutting down to as low as 1/4 of an inch. To sum up its advantages, it requires less water, less chemicals and treatment, heals faster and responds best to fertilizers.
The better the mixture, the more the Merion.

in part:
"We did not publish any article on the peace symbol, nor did we — in any connection — make any of the statements in question." He traces the first erroneous report to an editorial in a southern religious journal. "On June 3, 1970," he continued, "we wrote the editor of this publication, asking him to let us know on what page and in which issue of THE NEW YORKER these statements are supposed to have appeared. We have had no reply."

Yet soon afterwards, the false editorial was picked up and run in a veterans' magazine — and it's been circulating ever since! Wouldn't it be absolutely spiffy if GOOD rumors lasted that long? —H.

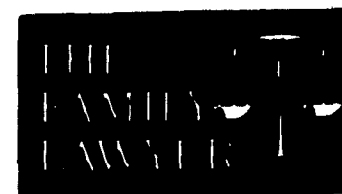

NOTE TO "DON'T CALL ME ARCHIE": Sorry I flunked my second chance with you. Can't promise I'll do better next time, but keep reading: I'm good for your adrenalin. —H.

Dear Helen:
Here's my secret for a happy marriage: I never let my husband get used to the fact that he's married to only ONE woman! He meets a "different" wife each time he comes home. One day I'm a black-haired (wiggled) hip-swinging "street" type — and we have dinner later. The next I'm a demure little ruffled doll. Third? The greatest cook on earth. Fourth — a blonde in a bikini, and on Saturday, I wear even less.

Sunday, I'm maybe a fiery redhead, so that leaves only Friday, when I let my imagination go wild. A black body stocking, perhaps, or candle light and wine, or the rug-in-front-of-the fireplace thing, with Cleopatra the second.

I'm forever thinking up new versions to please him. Outside of his looking a little tired some mornings, my man thinks wedded life is great. —
DELUXE VARIETY PACK
Dear DVP:

Whatever turns him on! ...But don't you get a little tired of never being YOURSELF? —H.

"Bad Guy" on Trial

Investigating the forgery of several checks, police uncovered enough evidence to bring a corporation official to trial. But they also discovered something else: he had been living with another man's wife.

Could this evidence be used against him in court? The judge said no, because it could easily turn the defendant into a "bad guy" in the minds of the jurors. "The deep tendency of human nature," warned the judge, "is to punish not because (the defendant) is guilty but because he is a bad man and may as well be condemned now that he is caught."

This is why evidence of bad character usually cannot be used against the defendant in a criminal trial. Unless it has a direct bearing on the issues in the case, it is considered too inflammatory to be trusted.

On the other hand, if the defendant tries to prove that his character is good, that "opens the door" to rebuttal by the prosecution. For example:

A woman was accused of the fatal shooting of her husband. During the trial, she took the witness stand and swore she had always been a loyal wife to the deceased.

But two men were promptly summoned by the prosecution to give testimony about her extramarital escapades. The court held that their evidence was admissible, since she had already opened the subject by claiming to be virtuous. What about proof by the defendant that his victim was a "bad guy"? In a murder case, the defendant tried to bring in evidence that the man he had allegedly killed was a rogue and a troublemaker. He said he wanted to prove that the man's death was no great loss.

But the court refused to allow this evidence, because it had nothing to do with the question of guilt or innocence. "It is just as serious in the eyes of the law," said the court, "to murder a bad man as a good man."

BOBCAT UPSET—The Hope Bobcats fell to the Malvern Leopards in a Friday night upset at Hammons Stadium. The Bobcats and Leopards, both undefeated teams, battled it out

Hope loses to Malvern

By ALAN FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

Hope fell Friday night at Hammons Stadium to a tough team of Malvern Leopards. The Leopards scored their points early and held on tight for what could be described as the most slim margin they've won by all year, 11-0.

Malvern received the open kickoff at their 33 and wasted no time as they drove 67 yards in 13 plays ending the drive with a 3 yard run by Bryan Bond. After a penalty Malvern decided to go for two and got it, as J. R. Ross, who carried eight times for 43 yards on this particular drive, popped over and Malvern led 8-0.

The Leopards were set up again when Frank McClure picked off a Hope pass on the 32 with (1:08) left in the half a 10 yard run by Rodney Daris and a pass connection of 13 yards from Bryan Bond to Frank McClure and with 8 seconds left in the half Malvern attempted a field goal by J. R. Ross which was good and gave Malvern an 11-0 lead at the half.

Malvern got within smelling distance of the goal line three more times but were cut down by a superb Bobcat defense.

Hope also had good scoring opportunities but as usual penalties and mistakes hurt the Cats and they were unable to put it all together.

The Leopards were led by J. R. Ross who rushed 32 times for 204 yards. Hope was led by David Johnson with 60 yards.

But this is past and this Bobcat team has a lot of pride which will enable them to overcome this offset and look to the future.

Beman wins second Quad Cities Open

BETTENDORF, Iowa (AP) — Deane Beman, has a love affair going with the state of Iowa.

"If they have a golf tournament in this state, you can count on me being there," the fairway strategist said Sunday after winning his second consecutive Quad Cities Open championship.

The victory, the fourth of his pro career, kept intact Beman's record of never losing in the state.

In addition to the Quad Cities titles, he also won the National Amateur championship in Des Moines in 1968.

Beman, a 34-year-old former insurance executive from Bethesda, Md., came from four strokes off the pace with a last round 67 for a 73-hole 279, five under par.

"When I started out, I figured it would take seven under to win it," he said, "then everybody started backing off, so I just played it conservatively over the last four holes."

Beman picked up $20,000 for the triumph, pushing his season's winnings to over $87,000 his career best.

Boston, Detroit start final season wrapup

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Here is a tip of the hat to the little old American League schedule maker. He didn't know it last winter when he drew up the AL calendar, but he has created one dandy wrapup to the 1972 regular season.

The East division race—5½ months and some 150 games after it started—has come down to the final three games of the baseball season. The contenders are Boston and Detroit and the battle will be settled as it should be—head to head.

The Red Sox are in Detroit for the start of a three-game series tonight. The team that wins two of those games will advance to the AL playoffs to face the Oakland A's.

Boston's first-place edge was trimmed to one-half game Sunday when the Red Sox dropped a 2-1 decision to Baltimore while Detroit was whipping Milwaukee 5-1.

In other American League action Sunday, Oakland trimmed Kansas City 4-2, Texas shut out Chicago 1-0, Cleveland swept a doubleheader with New York, winning the first game 2-1 and taking the second 4-3, and Minnesota edged California 3-2.

Boston nominated left-hander John Curtis for tonight's opener with Detroit ace Mickey Lolich opposing him. After that, it will be Luis Tiant Tuesday and Marty Pattin Wednesday for the Red Sox with the Tigers using Woody Fryman against Tiant and Joe Coleman on the last day.

The Sox had hoped to take the 1½ games lead they held most of last week into the final series. That would have meant that one victory at Detroit would clinch the flag for them. But Baltimore's crafty Mike Cuellar was having none of that. He scattered eight hits and Bobby Grich's sixth-inning homer gave the Orioles the victory.

On the scoreboard, the Sox watched Detroit's John Hiller mow down Milwaukee on five hits for his first victory in exactly two years. Hiller, out of baseball because of a heart attack last year, had last won a game on Oct. 1, 1970.

Aurelio Rodriguez cracked a three-run homer and Dick McAuliffe and Al Kaline added solo shots to account for the Tiger runs.

Now the time for scoreboard

Texas ended its 15-game losing streak with Dick Bosman throttling Chicago on three hits and blanking the White Sox. Bosman struck out 13 batters and the Rangers scored the game's only run in the first inning when Dave Nelson walked, stole second, moved to third on a fly ball and scored on Ted Ford's single.

Oakland's West Division champions whipped Kansas City with Gene Tenace pacing the late-inning offense. Tenace singled and came around to score the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning. Then he singled home two more runs for the A's in the ninth.

Gaylord Perry limited New York to four hits and struck out 11 as Cleveland won the first game of its doubleheader with the Yankees.

Chris Chambliss' 11th-inning sacrifice fly scored the deciding run in the opener for the Indians. Then, two errors by Yankee catcher John Ellis helped the Indians to two runs that proved decisive in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

Jim Holt drilled three straight hits and drove in two runs as Minnesota edged California.

Hogs: Worrying about mistakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks, says Coach Frank Broyles, have been under tremendous pressure this year — pressure from the coaches, the fans and the media.

Because of this, Broyles says, they have been playing scared — afraid of making mistakes. Broyles said Sunday the Razorbacks' 21-20 come-from-behind victory over Tulsa Saturday may have relieved some of the pressure.

"Our defense in the second half was the best of the season," Broyles said. "We had pursuit and gang tackling. In the first half, we stood around and worried about making a mistake," Broyles said. "We were supposed to be beating them and we weren't. We're going to make some mistakes, but we've got to realize that and become more aggressive."

Arkansas and Tulsa were tied 7-7 at the half, but Danny Rhodes recovered a Tulsa fumble at the Hurricane 32 early in the third quarter and the Razorbacks covered the distance to take a 14-7 lead. The payoff was a six-yard pass from Joe Ferguson to Mike Reppond — Ferguson's first TD toss of the season.

Tulsa had to start from its own 17 after the kickoff and it was then that the Hurricane demonstrated some of the character Broyles is always stressing.

"After the kickoff, we were thinking if we could hold them there and get another one we could ice the game," Broyles said. "Five plays later they tied it up. That is a tribute to the Tulsa team — falling behind after a fumble and coming back to tie."

The score came on a 34-yard run by Buddy Tate. Tulsa also had gains of 20 and 25 yards in the drive.

Arthur Moore blocked Drew Toole's punt on Arkansas' next possession and the Hurricane took over on the Razorback 31. It was then that Arkansas' defense "rose to the occasion."

Three plays netted a minus-one and Tulsa had to settle for a Sam Henry field goal.

The Razorbacks failed to make a first down on their next possession — they moved the stakes on only six of their 14 possessions — and Tulsa gained control near midfield.

Tulsa managed a first down at the Arkansas 13 but the defense put on a goal-line stand for the third time in three games and Henry kicked it to

Southern Cal., Okla. survive upsets

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Top-ranked Southern California and runner-up Oklahoma survived the rash of upsets over the weekend and if they both continue their winning ways it appears that the question of who's No. 1 will have to be settled in a poll rather than a bowl.

The problem is that Southern Cal plays in the Pacific-8 Conference, whose champion goes to the Rose Bowl, while Oklahoma is in the Big Eight and up for grabs by any bowl — except the Rose.

"I suppose they'll be No. 1 next week," said Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty after Southern Cal blasted his team 51-6 Saturday night. "I don't know who is No. 1, but I imagine USC is as good as any other team. It would be great if USC and Oklahoma could play."

While Southern Cal and Oklahoma, a 53-3 winner over Clemson, were rolling along, six other members of The Associated Press Top Ten—Ohio State, Alabama, Michigan, Louisiana State, Notre Dame and even once-beaten defending champion Nebraska—were ready and willing to stake their claim to No. 1 should the leaders falter, a fate that befell third-ranked Colorado and fourth-ranked Tennessee.

Colorado dropped a 31-6 shocker to Oklahoma State while Auburn stayed off Tennessee 10-6 in the weekend's major upsets, along with Wyoming's wild 45-43 triumph over No. 11 Arizona State.

Ohio State, ranked fifth, turned freshman tailback Archie Griffin loose for the first time and he romped for a school record 239 yards in a 20-14 victory over North Carolina.

The Razorbacks took the ensuing kickoff and moved 80 yards for the winning score in 15 plays.

During Broyles' reign at Arkansas, the Razorbacks have lost seven one-point decisions and won four. Two of the four have come in the last two weeks.

"I guess if you stay around long enough, the odds will even up," Broyles said.

Why did woody Hayes forsake his pet play, the fullback smash?

"They give you eight men up front," he said, "and to run on it you must use that fullback to block."

Sixth-rated Alabama crushed Vanderbilt 48-31 with a crunching ground game, although Coach Bear Bryant said he "didn't think they could score 21 points on us."

Flashy Johnny Rodgers set a Big Eight career pass-catching record—2,070 yards—and a school scoring mark with his 34th and 35th touchdowns in seventh-ranked Nebraska's 49-0 rout of Minnesota.

Michigan, No. 8, put down upset-minded and 18th-ranked Tulane 41-7 as Ed Shuttlesworth bulldozed for 151 yards and three scores. Ninth-ranked Louisiana State beat Wisconsin 27-7.

'Daddy' behind in polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — "For some reason," says George McGovern's oldest child, "Dad hasn't caught on, if that's the right word."

But is there worry in the McGovern household over recent public-opinion polls that show Democrat McGovern far behind President Nixon in this year's presidential race?

Polls are absurd, says Mary McGovern, at 17 the youngest of the South Dakota Democrat's five children. "I don't know much about polls, but they've never been right about my father before."

Adds Ann McGovern Mead, at 27 the oldest child: Her father's "method and personality are not getting across. People don't have a clear idea of who he is."

The two daughters discussed the campaign in an interview at the McGovern's Japanese-style house in Washington.

For Mary, the campaign is having a "kind of traumatic effect."

"Basically," she said, "everyone in my family is pretty shy."

"It's kind of weird," she said. "I always thought I could look at criticisms of my father and be, you know, emotionally detached. But that's really impossible."

"I've found myself getting hurt by some of the things people were saying. And like, hearing people cut him down all the time is really a drag."

Ann has had a different reaction. "The campaign has done a lot of good things for me," she said. "In a way, I'm doing things I never thought I could do, like speaking and campaigning alone."

Both said their parents have put no pressure on them to participate in the campaign. And at first, they were hesitant.

"I had a lot of anxiety about campaigning," said Ann who has spent three to four days a week canvassing and speaking for her father since the Democratic convention in Miami Beach, Fla., last July. "But now it's a good feeling that we're all working together toward a specific goal."

"It's really intensified the family's feelings about each other. We're probably closer than we've ever been although we're spending less time together."

Both daughters said that, although they fully support their father's quest for the presidency, they don't always agree with him on the issues.

For example, they believe that abortion should be a private matter decided by each woman without any governmental involvement. McGovern has said abortion is a question for each state to consider.

Ann is married to Wilbur Mead, a college student at Augustana College in South Dakota and a Marine veteran who served in Vietnam. They have two children.

Mary, a recent convert to Roman Catholicism, is a high school senior.

Andersons slams at opponents

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Tom Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., vice presidential candidate of the American Independent Party, said Sunday he thinks both Republicans and Democrats are socialistic.

Anderson, 59, publisher of a farm magazine and a syndicated columnist, said in an interview that the "objectives of both parties are the same."

He also said he believes in racial inferiority and opposed forced integration or segregation. He said there appears to be little difference between President Nixon and his Democratic challenger, Sen. George McGovern.

"Their objectives are the same and they differ only in approach," he said. "They're both arguing how to surrender in Vietnam and how to bring about a world government under control of the United Nations."

Flight to last 3 days

MOSCOW (AP) — A veteran Russian cosmonaut discloses that the first Soviet-American manned space venture will last three days and include a 48-hour linkup of the spaceships and an exchange of crews.

If it is successful it could be the forerunner of a joint U.S.-Soviet expedition to the planet Mars by the end of the century, Vladimir Shatalov, commander of two Soviet manned flights said.

Shatalov, 45, disclosed in a report released Sunday by Tass, the Soviet news agency, that plans for the first joint manned space effort call for an American Apollo spacecraft with three astronauts and a Russian Soyuz capsule with two crew members to be linked as a "single spacecraft" for two days while the spacemen perform joint scientific experiments.

Shatalov did not give the launch date. But his information was the most complete made public to date here on the planned space spectacular and indicated a definite flight plan and schedule had been worked out.

Although points of common design on the two spaceships had been resolved, it was still necessary "to study how, as far as possible, the decisions were," he said.

Space officials and technical experts from both countries have been meeting for nearly two years to map out the historic venture.

Members of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, NASA, and the Soviet Academy of Sciences were believed to have given the green light on the joint flight earlier this year. Shatalov's disclosures apparently meant both teams were well advanced on the subsequent planning stage.

"A Soyuz spacecraft manned by two cosmonauts will first be launched," he said. "In seven and a half hours, an Apollo spacecraft, manned by three astronauts, will be launched from Cape Kennedy."

"Twenty-four hours later, the Apollo will approach the Soyuz ship and a linkup will be performed. The system formed by the linkup will then be operated as a single spacecraft."

"For two days, spacemen will transfer from one ship to the other," Shatalov continued. "Scientific and technical experiments will be made and there will be television transmissions to earth."

"At the end of the third day, the spaceships will be undocked and will proceed to land on their respective territories."

The two spaceships will be fitted with compatible lighting and communications systems for the rendezvous and docking.

Investigation into alleged beatings begins

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — An investigation into alleged assaults on prisoners while in the custody of the Marvell Police Department is being conducted by the Arkansas State Police, according to Pros. Atty. Gene Raff of Helena.

Raff says allegations have been made to his office concerning the alleged assaults on prisoners.

Although Raff would not discuss the allegations, the Helena World has quoted sources as saying they were made in regard to the alleged beating of two black prisoners by police-

DICK SNEGOCKI

Discussion of area water situation at Hope Rotary Club

Rotarian Benny Coleman presented the program at the Hope Rotary Club on Friday, September 29, at the Town and Country, and one of his guests, Chester May, introduced the speaker, Dick Sniegocki of Little Rock. He discussed the water situation in Arkansas with special emphasis on our area.

"The ground water is just not here," Sniegocki said after showing graphs and charts of the water levels in Southwest Arkansas. "We are in the Nacatoch water level to use geologists' terms, and our water use is increasing. It stands to reason that if the water level depends on the amount of water going into the ground and the amount being taken out and we are using more and more water, another source is needed to raise our water level. The solution may be to space our wells farther apart, to use less water, or to use reservoirs for surface water. The last suggestion seems feasible since there are three such possible sources nearby."

Mike Waters, last week's student guest, made a return visit and introduced a classmate at Hope High, Sidney Ehlert. President Bob Roberts welcomed them, the members, and two other guests, Bobby Webb and George Frazier.

California: Political engima

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California, as so often in politics, is an apparent engima in the 1972 presidential contest.

Sen. George McGovern is holding his own in public opinion polls released so far in the state, in contrast to the massive lead President Nixon enjoys in the national polls.

While Nixon holds more than 20-point margins over McGovern in national opinion polls, he was only eight points ahead in the independent California Poll taken in late August — 49 per cent to 41 per cent. It was taken, however, before McGovern dropped Missouri Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton from the ticket. The next California Poll is due out in mid-October.

A McGovern-sponsored poll released by Dorothy D. Corey Research this past week showed Nixon with a 43 per cent to 37 per cent lead.

Political observers are puzzled by the disparity between the Nixon lead nationally and in California. One says: "Things couldn't be that different out here."

California is a crucial battleground and both candidates made their first major campaign thrusts here last week.

McGovern says he must win the state and its 45 electoral votes — the largest bloc in the nation — if Democrats are to have a chance to capture the White House.

And it is Nixon's home state, where he barely edged John F. Kennedy in 1960 and Hubert H. Humphrey in 1968.

"I want very much to win this election," Nixon said while campaigning in Los Angeles Wednesday. "I want very much to carry California."

Los Angeles, a veteran of California Democratic politics, says, "I think McGovern has a chance to win California. But it's a silent kind of thing. People in California don't like to vote for Nixon especially."

She thinks McGovern has as tough a fight in California as Humphrey did at this point four years ago. The Minnesota senator finished strong but fell 230,000 votes short of carrying California out of more than seven million votes cast.

Lyn Nofziger, Nixon's state-wide campaign director, often has said he expects a close race. Referring to the Corey poll, he said, "I'll take a 6 per cent victory and think it's great."

Station returns to air

CEDARTOWN, Ga. (AP) — Radio Station WGAA returned to the air Sunday night, transmitting over a hastily rigged tower some 15 hours after two dynamite blasts felled its 258-foot, self-supporting tower.

Station manager Bob Bond said the temporary arrangement, consisting of a 55-foot utility pole with a wire running between it and the transmitter 200 feet away, was "doing fine."

He said he had "no earthly idea" about the motive behind the bombing of the tower, which police still were investigating. There had been no arrests.

SARCON (AP) — The Saigon command reported today 100 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong rocket, mortar and sabotage attacks across South Vietnam.

It was the highest number of enemy assaults in a single day in more than two months, although most of them were small, a spokesman said.

In Thailand, terrorists fired about 30 mortars into the U.S. air base at Udorn, 300 miles northeast of Bangkok, from where air strikes against North Vietnam are launched. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said a radio tower was slightly damaged but U.S. planes and personnel were untouched.

Reward offered in deaths

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A $5,000 reward is offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer of Patricia Grimes, woman's editor of the Raleigh Times, and Peter Pascud Williams Jr., a Raleigh real estate man.

The reward was posted Sunday by Frank Daniels Jr., president of The News and Observer Publishing Co., which publishes the Raleigh Times.

Wake County authorities said no arrests had been made and no motive found for the slayings.

Deputies said robbery had been ruled out as a motive since $30 was found in Williams' wallet and both were wearing wrist watches.

Bodies of Miss Grimes, 23, and Williams, 27, were found Saturday at Raleigh Beach, a fishing and picnicking spot on the Neuse River about six miles from Raleigh.

Miss Grimes had been shot four times and Williams three.

Funeral services for both were set for today.

Chief Wake County Deputy L. W. Kelly said that the two were shot with a .22 caliber rifle. Deputies were called to the scene about 2:30 p.m. Saturday by a resident of the area who first discovered Williams' body.

The man told deputies he heard several rifle shots in rapid succession about 1:30 or 1:45 p.m. and heard a woman screaming. He said he heard another burst of shots and a "man bawling."

He then heard an automobile drive away at high speed, he said.

News left the Vietnam war zone and steamed to the Philippines with the bodies of 10 sailors killed in the worst U.S. naval disaster this year.

Ten other men in the crew of 1,300 were injured by the explosion in an eight-inch gun turret that rocked the 21,000-ton warship early Sunday as it shelled the northern coast of South Vietnam.

The Navy was investigating the blast, described as an accident.

Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Haig, a special representative of President Nixon, conferred with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu for 2½ hours today in a wide review of the political and military situation in Indochina.

A spokesman for the U.S. embassy said he did not know the substance of the talks, but sources had said Haig planned to give Thieu a full report on the secret negotiations in Paris between Presidential adviser

Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese diplomats.

Haig is due to return to Washington Wednesday to report to Kissinger and Nixon on his conference with Thieu, sources said. North Vietnamese insistence on ousting Thieu from a future coalition government in South Vietnam is one of the stumbling blocks at the Paris talks.

The enemy attacks occurred during a 24-hour period ending Monday evening, South Vietnamese military headquarters said. A spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said it was the highest number since last July 25 when 103 were reported.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

No booze for cirrhosis victims

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I wonder if you can help me. I have had cirrhosis of the liver for six years now, I am able to be up and do my work but no heavy work. My doctor says all that can be done is to rest. So I wonder if there is anything else.

Dear Reader—There are several different causes of cirrhosis of the liver. Cirrhosis really refers to scarring of the liver that follows in the wake of inflammation of the liver. This can be the result of drinking too much alcohol over long periods of time, or taking in any toxic substance which damages the liver. It can follow inflammation of the liver from any cause, viral or bacterial, and by disease of the bile tract, by stones and even secondary to heart failure.

The amount of cirrhosis can vary a great deal from a mild liver dysfunction to a very severe dysfunction that can even cause coma and death. Clearly no one answer is going to satisfy all these problems and in treatment it's going to make a great deal of difference what causes cirrhosis to begin with.

Anyone who has cirrhosis of the liver should not drink any alcohol in any form at any time. They are wise to take vitamin supplements at least being certain to take an all-purpose vitamin tablet daily for the minimal daily requirements. Some patients will need supplemental iron and others will need to restrict the salt in their diet. All patients will need a nutritious balanced diet, unless they are really having liver failure, and then special diets and hospitalization are indicated. In acute illnesses of the liver, hormones related to the cortisone group are sometimes used.

Rest is important in individuals who have liver diseases but in individuals who do not have liver disease, too much rest can lead to fatigue and poor physical fitness which isn't good for the health either. To evaluate how much activity a person should have requires first-hand knowledge of the degree of liver damage present. One of the astronauts for example, had a mild form of liver dysfunction and despite this, is one of our space heroes and has continued to lead an active useful life with no limitations imposed by his liver problems.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I read in your column that a woman can sometimes get pregnant anytime, but is it possible to get pregnant on the last day of the period or the day after the period. Also, if a pregnant woman has X rays taken of her teeth and she's not wearing a lead apron, can the X rays hurt the fetus?

Dear Reader—If a woman is regular she usually will not get pregnant on the last day of her period or immediately after her period. But women are not always regular, and it is possible to get pregnant at the end of your period. As far as dental X rays taken early in pregnancy, they are not likely to cause any difficulty with the baby, with or without a lead apron.

Opening lead—K

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Here is a rather simple hand from Eric Jennersten's book. South finds himself in a reasonable five-club contract."

Jim: "The setup appears to be such that South will have to lay down his ace of clubs and pick up West's singleton king to make his contract. All else being equal, this represents a 13 per cent chance against a 50 per cent chance if the finesse is taken. But all else isn't equal."

Oswald: "No, indeed. East has passed his partner's opening spade bid and isn't going to have many high cards."

Jim: "South should look carefully at West's king of spades lead. If West also held the ace and king of hearts he would undoubtedly have preferred that lead to the spade. Hence, East is marked with either the ace or king of hearts."

Oswald: "It is most unlikely that East would pass with two kings in his hand. Thus, the second step in reasoning from the bidding is that East just can't have the king of clubs."

Jim: "This brings us to the ace of clubs play. West has the king. Our only chance to make the hand is to drop it."

Oswald: "South still needs a diamond finesse but that is surely going to work and is just routine."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Johnny Carson celebrated his tenth year as host of the NBC television "Tonight Show" by marrying Joanna Holland, 32.

At a star-packed dinner Saturday night, Carson, 46, surprised friends by announcing his third marriage.

Carson was recently divorced from his second wife Joanne Carson. She was awarded an outright settlement of $200,000, alimony of $100,000 annually until she remarries and custody of their Yorkshire terrier, Muffin.

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Pulitzer and Nobel prize winning author Pearl Buck is reported in comfortable and satisfactory condition at Vermont Medical Center where she underwent surgery last Friday for removal of her gall bladder.

The hospital reported Sunday that Miss Buck now is able to get out of bed and sit in a chair for brief periods.

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco has begun his 36th year as Spain's chief of state.
